THE TERRIBLE

DAMNATION OF POWER

RUSSIA 1

The life of the most controversial and mysterious Russian ruler, Ivan IV, is light and darkness. Torn between mercy and cruelty, the deeply religious tsar considered himself an awful sinner. Despite being an incredibly educated and literary gifted person, a reformer and a creator, he was a cruel tyrant. The greatest statesman went through glorious victories and bitter defeats. He was blessed with big love, which he eventually lost in the darkness of plots and intrigues. This tragedy changed him, and Ivan IV morphed into infamous Ivan the Terrible, brutal and ruthless.

What begins as a story of murder becomes a journey toward the revival of the lost soul.

Crime and Punishment is a feature-length animated adaptation of Fyodor Dostoevsky's iconic novel - one of the most profound works in world literature.

This timeless plot is reimagined in a new format that stays true to the original's philosophical depth while bringing it closer to today's audience.

Rodion Raskolnikov is a poor student obsessed with the idea of being an "extraordinary man". He commits a murder to prove his theory, but soon finds himself drawn into a relentless psychological struggle.

Under the weight of guilt, fear, and inner suffering, Raskolnikov begins his journey toward redemption and spiritual rebirth.

This is an emotional family drama set between two cultures.

Twin sisters, separated by fate, grew up worlds apart – one in Russia, the other in Turkey. They look almost identical but know very little about each other. A chance meeting in Istanbul and a playful idea to swap places turn their lives upside down.

A tangled web of love and lies provokes dramatic twists that eventually affect both families. The clash of languages, traditions, and mindsets – brought to life by powerful performances from Russian and Turkish actors – gives the story a unique atmosphere and a sharp, gripping tension.

RUSSIA
TELEVISION AND RADIO

They are the best of the best: elite special forces, highly qualified combat soldiers, carrying out secret government missions. Strong, brave and honest, they face deception and treachery, vice and evil, suffering and death. They risk their lives, never giving up or losing heart. Their objective is clear: to rescue those who need help, to live and, if need be, die in the line of duty. Their motto is always: "If not us, then who?" Is this just overwrought and excessive bombast? Not at all – it is what they do. All the action in the series is based on true events, and all the characters are based on real people.

LAW OF THE LAWLESS

RUSSIA 1

RUNNING TIME
15x52-54'

“Law of the lawless” was the first attempt at the creation of a popular theme of ‘gangster sagas’ from a Russian perspective. The heroes of the film – Sasha Belly, Kosmos, ‘Bee’, and ‘Phil’- typical Moscow guys who, as fate would have it, become one of the most united and influential criminal gangs around. Accordingly, shoot outs and killings are not what interest us in a gangster-like film. What interests us is how these typical guys go from a ‘usual’ way of life to living ‘on the edge’ and breaking the law. The script “Law of the lawless” contains the best qualities found in the ‘gangster film tradition’ – the signs of the time, the stress of modern life in combined with a classical genre of situations and characters, reminding one of “Once upon a time in America “ and the films of the 1930’s, such as “A solder’s fate in America”.

YURI GAGARIN: SEVEN YEARS OF SOLITUDE

RUSSIA 1

The first man to conquer space, Yuri Gagarin was only 27 years old at the time of his incredible feat. However, a mere seven years later his life was tragically cut short. The cosmonaut lived his final years under the spotlight of fame. For Gagarin though, it was also a time of deep loneliness and longing. In spite of all the recognition and goodwill bestowed upon him wherever he went, nothing could replace the love of his devoted wife, left behind in Moscow while he travelled the world. Gagarin had to smile constantly – a smile that was to become one of his most notable traits. A simple man at heart, he came to symbolise an exciting future – a future Gagarin himself was to play no part in.

SALYUT-7

The space flight to the Salyut-7 station is a unique case in the world cosmonautics history. The cosmonauts had to dock with the uncontrolled vehicle and restore the life support system in extreme cold without any electricity and ventilation. It was an unprecedented act of heroism. The space station was salvaged. Salyut-7 remained in orbit, did not fall, came back to life and continued working as before.

APOLLO-SOYUZ: FORCE OF ATTRACTION

The story of the legendary “handshake in space” – the docking of a US Apollo spacecraft with a Soviet Soyuz capsule in 1975. The event took place at the height of the Cold War between the USSR and the USA. The friendly handshake of the crew captains Aleksei Leonov and Thomas Stafford in space was a sign of the future improvement of the political climate on Earth.

Nearly half a century later the “APOLLO-SOYUZ” project remains a landmark in the history of astronautics, while the life of its participants is an example of true friendship, duty, loyalty towards the chosen path, and inconceivable love for Space.

MY UNIVERSE

A childhood dream that came true. 30-year-old astrophysicist and space engineer Vladimir Romanyuk started creating his own universe when he was 12. Just a simple boy from the outskirts of Saint Petersburg, he modelled stars, galaxies, black holes, and nebulas on his father’s old computer. Based on pure science and precise calculations, his “Space Engine” is currently the best space imaging in the world. Vladimir doesn’t plan to stop. He keeps expanding his world and invites all dreamers to join the virtual journey into the depth of Universe.

THE HIGHEST POINT

The space fascinates people since ancient times. They created air balloons, airships and planes to approach the unknown... But the first human space flight was a game changer. Only after breaking out of Earth’s gravity, people were able to see our beautiful planet from the highest point. The solar wind, sub-saharan fresh water resources, marine phytoplankton, which produces up to 90% of the planet’s oxygen, are only a few striking discoveries that were revealed with the beginning of the space age.

TOWARDS THE SUN

The Sun is the heart of our solar system and a driving force for the planets around it and life on Earth. The documentary takes viewers on a breathtaking journey towards the Sun, outlining its origin, formation of the solar system and potential death of the most important star.

MISSION TO MARS

Life on Earth is becoming more threatened with climate catastrophe, overpopulation, nuclear winter, and meteor strike. The search for humanity's second home is as relevant as ever. However, scientists are not sure if Mars fits for this role. The documentary thoroughly investigates the red planet's past and unlocks its most fascinating mysteries.

JUPITER'S MAGNETISM

Jupiter, the largest planet of the solar system, consists of mostly swirling gases and liquids. Its hydrogen ocean creates enormous magnetic field around it which is million times stronger than Earth's. The extreme pressures and temperatures inside the planet make it impossible to land on it. But the newest computer technologies and last scientific evidence allow us to travel to places not a single spacecraft has seen before. A virtual treat into the depths of space featuring stunning views of the gas giant.

RUSSIA 1

This documentary offers a rare opportunity to see modern Russia through the eyes of its President. In an exclusive interview, Vladimir Putin shares his personal thoughts on the fate of Russia, its place in the world, and the key events that have shaped the direction of the past 25 years.

Filmed inside his private Kremlin residence – a place usually off-limits to cameras – the film reveals spaces never before shown to the public: his library, gym, kitchen, and private chapel. Here, over a glass of kefir, the president speaks about global political challenges, the state of society, power succession, and the deeper meaning behind it all. A film about leadership, identity, and the price the country pays for the right to follow its own path.

The documentary shows intense battles for Artyomovsk, a fortified town, that the Armed Forces of Ukraine turned into a symbol of their military strength.

It is the story of “Gong,” a local commander, whose father and son were killed by Ukrainian nationalists. He returns home through the ruins and confronts captured Ukrainian soldiers, asking them uncomfortable questions. What are they doing in his town in Donbas? Why are they killing people living on their dads’ and grandads’ land?

RUSSIA 24

This is the story of an ordinary Orthodox priest, known simply as “Father” in the region of Ukraine torn by war.

Father Pyotr is a spiritual guide and peacemaker who believes that true borders lie not on maps, but in people’s hearts.

He can’t stop the conflict, but he does everything he can to support those who suffer – both civilians and soldiers on the front line. He gathers humanitarian aid, builds little chapels in the trenches, baptizes and gives communion to soldiers, and prays for their lives.

He even prays for the enemies, hoping they remember that before God all are equal – Muslims, Jews, Buddhists, and Christians.

DOCUMENTARY

The Donbas and Luhansk Region are areas of Ukraine with Russian-speaking population. In 2014, with growth of anti-Russian agenda, Ukraine started a war against its own people. Bombarding homes, schools, and hospitals, the militaries were showing no mercy to women, elders and children. Thousands of people died during the 8-year cruel purge. The locals heroically fought back and Russia could not stand aside. On 24 February 2022, a special military operation to denazify and demilitarize Ukraine was started.

DENAZIFICATION 1x57'

After the fall of the Soviet Union, Ukraine aimed to create its own state and national identity. Armed with the nationalists' slogan "Ukraine above all" copied from Nazi "Deutschland uber alles", Ukrainian elite consistently implemented national superiority principle and hatred towards those who didn't support the anti-Russian course. They were proclaimed subhumans and doomed to be destroyed morally and even physically.

1944: THE BATTLE FOR CRIMEA

RUSSIA 1

The spring of 1944. On the narrow isthmus of Perekop, connecting the mainland with the Crimean peninsula, one of WWII's most unusual frontlines is unfolding: over 600,000 soldiers equipped with 10,000 heavy weapons are stationed on a 16-kilometre-long stretch of land.

The Crimean territory is of great strategic importance: whoever holds it owns the Black Sea. So far, it has been in the hands of the Wehrmacht, but soon everything will change. An ingenious military operation will enable the Red Army to rapidly move from total defence to massed offensive. As a result, the Nazi troops will sustain yet another crushing defeat on the Eastern Front, hammering another nail in the coffin of the Third Reich...
